Commission rate for After-Hours Futures Trading (T+1 Session):

1. Establishment and closure of a futures position within the same T+1 session would be classified as a day trade. Commission rate for day trade would be charged accordingly. Establishment of a futures position in the T+1 session which is closed during the next normal trading session would be charged with the commission rate for day trade as well.
 2. All commission collection would be shown on the daily statement of the next normal trading session and would be subjected to the statement. (Transactions during the T+1 session would be shown on the daily statement of the next trading day.)
 3. HKEX announced that all MSCI futures and options will be the first suite of products ("H Products") to be cleared on Hong Kong public holidays ("H Days") commencing from Monday, 9 May 2022 (Buddha's Birthday public holiday).
 4. "H Days" will be regarded as clearing date. Establishment of any futures position in the T+1 session preceding "H Days" which is closed during the next normal trading session following "H Days" would be charged with the commission rate for overnight trade.
- Commission is subject to overnight charges of phone orders if expiring futures contract is closed out by "auto cash settlement" on the last trading day.
 - Commission is subject to phone orders charges if expiring index options contract (in-the-money options) is closed out by "auto cash settlement" on the last trading day.
 - Commission of index options rounded up to the nearest dollar.
